College Director's Report

A reflection from College Director, Brendan O'Brien, on the events of the last fortnight at Carranballac P-9 College

Dear Parents and Carranballac College Community,

Last week I covered the important area of Parent responsibility and how our collective efforts will lead to better overall outcomes for your children/our students. I focused on 'keeping an open mind' and 'listening to all sides' as part of the educative process of developing responsible citizens of the future and I expect the same of our College staff in their daily professional practice.

Building on this has been the development of our College values:

RESPECT ↔ INCLUSIVENESS ↔ RESILIENCE ↔ INTEGRITY ↔ RESPONSIBILITY

which will be a focal point for all in our community henceforth. Students will unpack the meaning of the values in their own language early in 2018 and we will publish definitions that are appropriate to various levels across the College. Students, staff and parents will be expected to hold true to these values as the culture of the College reshapes itself in order to aspire to our VISION:

One College,
Infinite possibilities,
Working together,
Embracing the Future.

I am pleased to say that we are well on our way and I look forward to continuing the journey with all in our community.

Road Safety – We all seem to notice that the roads are busier at this time of year, drivers are easily distracted, pedestrians do not take enough care, cyclists lose their focus and oops someone may get hurt. Staff talk to students about road safety and we remind students about the importance of wearing bicycle helmets and car seat belts. We ask that pedestrians take great care when crossing roads and listening for the traffic. Parents are encouraged to take every possible opportunity to share their road safety knowledge with their children and to model it as well.

Surf Camp / Coastal Walk: I am pleased to provide some very positive feedback on the Year 9 Surf Camp and our new initiative – the Year 9 Local Coastal Walk. Both activities were well received by our students. I cannot thank our staff enough for the great care and depth of planning that went into both and I would like to congratulate our senior students on their strong participation, skill building, support for each other and sense of adventure. Well done to all.

Concerts / Graduation / Carols: The Early Years' concerts have been a real hit, with audiences overflowing in the Performing Arts Centre each night. Smiling student performers strutted their best stuff, guided by the wonderful leadership and support from our class teachers and music staff. Performing Arts is integral to improved student learning and Carranballac does it extremely well. I am looking forward to our Year 9 Graduation this Thursday evening and continue to be very pleased with the manner in which they are completing their final year at Carranballac.

This will be our final full Newsletter for 2017, and I will be writing a brief Director's Report next week which will contain my Christmas wishes to the community and the full staff list for 2018.

Friday 22 December is the final day of school. Please note that the finish time this year will be – 1.00pm. Students will have a recess break but NO lunch break so please send your children to school with a large snack and then they can have lunch at home. This is in line with DET regulations and supported by School Council.

Have a wonderful week.

Brendan O'Brien
College Director

Campus Principals' Report

A reflection from College Principals, Ros Myors (Boardwalk) and Sandy Naughton (Jamieson Way), on the events of the last fortnight at Carranballac P-9 College

Reflecting on 2017, we are reminded of what a busy and sometimes frantic time December can be. Our teachers are completing final semester reports, creating class lists for 2018 and finalising curriculum teaching to ensure all students are prepared for the challenges of the 2018 academic year. It has been another year of wonderful achievements for our students, in the classroom, on the sporting field, in outdoor education activities and in the performing/visual arts. We have been particularly delighted with the success of our HERO program. This has only been possible with your continued and diligent support. The HERO program is underpinned by the knowledge that students need to be on school on time, every day, to maximise their learning. Student attendance and punctuality have greatly improved across the College. Our sincere thanks.

In addition, we have held a number of wonderful extra-curriculum activities. Our Cultural lunch held at Boardwalk was well received by Year 7, 8 & 9 students. Thank you to Mrs Walker and Mrs Gault for your work in ensuring the success of this event. The presenters delivered motivating speeches and words of encouragement to all students, followed by performances from a small group of our Islander students. Mrs Walker had also organised a video link from her nephew Stan Walker who is a well-known Australian singer/performer. Stan emphasised the need for having a goal in life and we can all achieve great results through HIGH EXPECTATIONS. This initiative was a trial this year and we hope to extend this program across the College next year to promote and support the connection with students of all races. As so eloquently put, we have only one race, the HUMAN RACE. Let's all live in harmony.

Our 2018 Foundation students had their final transition day last week. We are sure they are all looking forward to joining us in the new year - as we are excited to have them.

Our Year 9 students enjoyed a wonderful Surf Camp at Lorne last week. The Year 9 students who did not attend were treated to an educational coastal walk along our great local shores. Thank you to Henric Beiers, John Forrester, and Rae Jeffrey who organised this fun and valuable excursion. Our Year 2 families at Boardwalk were unfortunately affected by the heavy rain last week and the students sleep-over was postponed until 21 December.

December is music concert month at Carranballac and all Early Years students get to perform on our lovely stage in the PKKPAC to showcase some of their work from classroom music lessons. Thank you to the talented staff who arrange these concerts: Mr Montgomery, Ms Molnar, Mr Grima, Mr Wakeling, and Mrs Colston-Ing.

One of the highlights of our college calendar is always the Year 9 Graduation. This year it will be held on Thursday 14 December and we have a record number of students attending. Congratulations to our Year 9 students, who will graduate shortly. We extend warm wishes for your future education in Year 10 and beyond.

We hope you can join us for our annual Family Christmas Night. This is always a great night and will be held at the Boardwalk School this year on Tuesday 19 December. Our wonderful Parents and Friends Association will have a sausage sizzle and drinks for sale or you may wish to bring a picnic basket and rug and sit on our beautiful Boardwalk School oval.

We will hold end of year assemblies at both schools on the last day of term. Jamieson Way will be from 9:00am onwards and Boardwalk will be from 11:15am onwards, both in the gymnasiums. Year 4 students will be presented with their Middle Years tie and a certificate for completing Early Years schooling. Year 6 students will receive a certificate recognising their final year of Primary School. Year 9 students will receive certificates, as will the student leaders, guardians, and members of the Student Representative Council and Environmental Leaders. Families and friends are most welcome to attend. Both schools will also be announcing the new student leadership team for 2018 at this assembly.

Finally, to our wonderful families and our amazing teachers and support staff, our sincere thanks for a great year. We have great admiration and respect for the support from our families. Support from this partnership helps our commitment to make our students happy, fulfilled and connected. May your holidays provide you with the much-deserved rest and revitalisation. Merry Christmas to everyone and best wishes to you and your families over the holiday season. Stay safe and we look forward to working with you again in 2018.

Student Awards

HERO AWARDS - Here Everyday Ready On-time

We celebrate and acknowledge students who arrive at class every day on time, ready to learn. Students who have been nominated as a HERO throughout the year go into the draw to win a FREE lunch order each week. Winners are drawn at Assembly on Monday.

Student Academic Awards

We celebrate and acknowledge students who display a commitment to their classroom learning, a positive attitude to their learning, consistency in the classroom and display the Carranballac values.

Carranballac P-9 College Christmas Carols

Thank you to our incredible community of family, friends and staff who supported our Christmas Carols event on Tuesday evening. We faced the challenges the weather presented us with, and held the event in our Boardwalk campus gym. The community understood the need for the outdoor event to be held indoors, and supported us with their attendance and carolling.

Our Parents & Friends association once again put on an impressive barbecue and we were happy with the way the association rallied together to make the event such a success.

Congratulations to Gavin, our new Parents & Friends association President and his team of dedicated volunteers.

Carranballac Food Drive

A very big thank you to all those people who continue to support our families in need. A number of people have put little gifts into the donation baskets. What a fantastic idea! I am keeping these so that on our last delivery before school breaks up there are some treats/gifts in the food parcels we deliver along with the much needed food.

I know I keep saying it, but it is true, that every donation no how big or small is valuable and once again we thank you.

The 4 Rs of online safety

Previous generations were taught that the fundamental 'Rs' of education were "Reading, '(w)riting, and '(a)rithmetic. While these still hold true (despite only one of them being a true 'R'), I have been thinking that today there are a new set of 'Rs' we need to be instilling in our young people—respect, resilience, responsibility and reasoning.

In this age of information overload, I often feel that I have too many apps open in my brain—and not enough RAM! So, I often use mnemonics, such as acronyms, alliterations or singular letters to help me remember complex tasks or lists.

When I was working at Twitter, it was all about encouraging people to 'BRIM' in the face of online abuse, depending on their situation. That is, to 'Block, Report, Ignore or Mute.'

At the eSafety Office, we are giving a lot of thought to the critical skills young Australians need to help navigate the online world more safely. Ultimately, these come back to some fundamental values that we all need to practise in the offline world too. We have developed the Young & eSafe platform to do just that. Here is a rundown on the revamped 4 Rs and why we believe they are imperative for people—both young and mature—to possess.

Respect—the Golden Rule to “treat others how you would like to be treated” might seem overly simplistic, we need to be reinforcing this mantra across all lines of communication—online and offline—and it should underpin our every interaction. Not only should young people treat others with respect, they need to respect themselves and know and understand that their digital footprint should always be a positive and realistic reflection of themselves.

Responsibility—this should be taught from the first swipe of the iPad! We need to constantly remind young people that they are the most tech savvy generation to date and they have a responsibility to shape the online world positively for generations to come. Let them know they can be the difference between a positive or negative online experience. Instil them with confidence to be vigilant both online and offline and inspire them to take a stand and be the right kind of digital influencer.

Reasoning—it can often be difficult for young people to step back and process whether information they see online is credible or true. Whether it’s an out of character Snap, shady advertising on Insta, or an outlandish tweet trending on Twitter, it’s crucial that young people stop and question. As AI and machine learning technologies continue to advance, it will only become more difficult for young people – not to mention, adults - to discern what is real and what is not. This is why it’s imperative to cultivate these critical reasoning skills now, so they’re able to call out the bad stuff (and shout out the good stuff!).

Resilience—unfortunately, young people are bound to witness or experience nasty comments and may come across confronting or inappropriate content online. Blocking or limiting their access is not going to build the strength and resolve they need to withstand this potential online onslaught. In the analogue age, we weren’t coddled quite so much as our parents knew that the online way we could cope in the real world was to fall down, brush ourselves off, learn from our mistakes and move on.. We need to provide kids with solution-focused coping strategies to ensure they can bounce back from tough situations—online and offline.

We all have a part to play in leading the way for our youth—we ourselves need to model good behaviour in order for them to effectively develop the 4 Rs of online safety. But we also need to give young people a voice so they feel empowered to continue these important online safety conversations among their peers, to create a strong culture of mutual respect where bad behaviour is not tolerated.

By: Julie Inman Grant

Young & eSafe is an initiative of the Office of the eSafety Commissioner. The platform was developed by young people for young people to empower the next generation to challenge the haters and fakers online.

Early Years Concert and DVD

We are very happy to be able to provide families with a video recording of the Early Years

Concerts, with orders being made online. These videos are a wonderful opportunity to witness the growth and confidence of your children as they progress from Foundation through to Year 4.

We have engaged a professional videographer from an experienced company to film the events, with orders open NOW for those families who would like to receive their DVD before the end of the year.

Families with multiple performances may purchase DVD's containing more than one concert.

Music Matters

There's plenty going on in the music department as Term 4 hurtles along with recording and concert preparation in full swing. In this fortnight's edition we focus on Recording, Early Years Concerts, and our College Christmas Carols. What a way to wrap up the year!!

Early Years concerts

The music team would like to congratulate the students for their participation in the Early Years Concerts. The students' behaviour and performances were impeccable and they approached the whole experience with a positive attitude. We must also thank the community for their full support of the events. Having so many turn up for the concerts provided a really lovely atmosphere for the students. For the filming of the concerts we have had to search for another service provider as the one used in previous years is no longer in business. CEVE services have taken another look at their pricing structure for the concerts and have offered special deals which will support families with multiple children should you want to purchase the film. Links are provided below.

2018 rock bands

Over the last few weeks we have been working our way through over 160 auditions for both our 2018 rock bands. We thank all the students for their efforts. We will be ready to announce the successful players by the end of the week. The rock band is a serious commitment and the successful students must be prepared for a lot of work and commitment but a lot of fun along the way. If your child is not successful, please accept the disappointment but have a conversation centred around resilience. Everything does not always go our way but it is important to overcome disappointment and move on with a positive attitude.

Family Carols nights

We are looking forward to our Family Carols night which will be held on the oval at Boardwalk Campus from 6pm to 8pm. We invite families to bring a blanket and come along for a sing and enjoy our final performances from our 2017 rock bands.

"Everyone" EP release!

We have received copies of Minor Sensation's EP, "Everyone", a collection of self-penned tunes from our students. They will be available at both offices for $10 with a limited supply. So get in early to avoid disappointment!

2017 Thanks

The Arts department would like to thank the community for their ongoing support this year. We have had a huge 2017!! Wakakirri performances have spanned over our Year 5/6 and Year 9 grades, the Rock Band has performed in over 25 gigs, Minor Sensation's first EP was produced after participating in a song writing workshop. Not to mention, Rockfest's Battle of the Bands, Music Camp, Early Years concerts, and a VET program that continues to grow. We are grateful for the large number of school supported events, and hope that you have a very happy holiday over the summer break.

eSmart Top Tip

Your digital reputation is defined by your behaviours in the online environment and by the content you post about yourself and others.

Tagged photos, blog posts and social networking interactions will all shape how you are perceived by others online and offline, both now and in the future. A poor digital reputation can affect your friendships, relationships and even your job prospects, so it is very important that you are aware of what picture you are painting of yourself online and protect your digital reputation today.
